

THE RE

AL ROARING 20'S

82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90

As for the "instantaneous" development suggested by the vertical lines, they are mostly due to HP company information that some models were released in the first months of a certain year while some other models were available only later in the same year. They also represent models that belong in the same group of development, as far as the available information is concerned.

91

92

93

later

